Information about your diet.

Below is general information about common diet orders that may be prescribed by your physician. A registered dietitian is available if you would like more information about your diet.

Regular. A Regular diet is a nutritionally balanced diet with no dietary restrictions. We encourage you to choose a variety of foods, including fruit, vegetables, and whole grains.

Consistent Carbohydrate. The Consistent Carbohydrate diet helps to control blood sugar levels and health problems associated with diabetes. This diet aims to provide a moderate amount of carbohydrate at each meal by counting carbohydrate servings. One carbohydrate count equals 15 grams of carbohydrate. The number of carbohydrate counts for each menu item is listed.

Heart Healthy. A Heart Healthy diet is designed to decrease the risk of cardiovascular disease and reduce blood lipid levels. This diet limits total fat, saturated fat and sodium. Suggested Heart Healthy menu items are identified by the ♥ symbol.

Low Sodium. A Low Sodium diet is typically prescribed to help control blood pressure and to avoid fluid retention. A Low Sodium diet limits foods high in salt, such as processed meats, cheese, and sauces.

Renal. A Renal diet is typically prescribed to help control or prevent kidney disease. This diet limits sodium, potassium, and phosphorus. Your physician may also order a specific amount of protein intake. Suggested Renal menu items are identified by the ♦ symbol.

Soft/Bland. This diet may be prescribed by your physician to minimize gastrointestinal distress and irritation. The Soft/Bland diet consists of foods that are easily digestible and mildly seasoned. High fiber foods, raw fruits and vegetables, greasy foods and caffeine are omitted.
